

First Interplanetary Rebel Clown Army Mobilisation

Rebel clowns from of the other 8 planets in the solar system (the P8) are upset with the direct that the Earth is taking, and have decided to visit the G8 meeting in Heiligendamm to make their objections clear. They are especially unhappy with the emerging threat from the self-proclaimed leaders of the "rogue planet" earth, as the rest of the galaxy is organised non-hierarchically.

It is clear that "resistance from below" needs a bit of help with some "resistance from above".

The mobilisation of an interplanetary rebel clown army obviously needs a parking space for rebel clown army space ships. And what better place to park your space ships than the Bombomdrom?

The pink pyramids (already a symbol of resistance at the Bombodrom) are a great "beacon" to guide the spaceships.

We can call for rebel clown army gaggles from Mercury, Venus, Mars, Saturn, Jupiter, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

Bring something to show which planet your gaggle is from.
